

GENOCIDE AWARENESS PROJECT

Tucson, 2010

What is the
GENOCIDE
AWARENESS
PROJECT?

The Genocide Awareness Project (GAP) is a traveling photo-mural exhibit which compares the contemporary genocide of abortion to historically recognized forms of genocide. It visits university campuses around the country to show as many students as possible what abortion actually does to unborn children and get them to think about abortion in a broader historical context.

Why use the term
'Genocide'?

Webster's N.W.E. defines "genocide" as "The deliberate and systematic destruction of a national, racial, religious, political, cultural, ethnic, or other group defined by the exterminators as undesirable." Webster's New World Encyclopedia, Prentice Hall general Reference, 1992

Is it effective?

"Two weeks after [CBR] left campus, a total of twenty-six girls have come into our office to have a pregnancy test and we are sure that five of the girls were pro-abortion and changed their minds as a result of your [GAP] display. They were fussing about the vivid pictures but admitted that these pictures changed their minds about abortion. They were pro-abortion until you came to town. Three other girls were undecided about what their decision would be until we offered our alternative. All three were pregnant and will parent their babies."

-Pat Job, director of the Pregnancy Support Center
Knoxville, TN

GET TRAINED!

Whether they are born or unborn, Scripture commands us to love our neighbors as ourselves. For our upcoming fall GAPs, we want to train volunteers to be able to witness against abortion scientifically, philosophically and Biblically. The training is fast-paced and free and is a wonderful opportunity to be a voice for those that have none!

"I'd like to applaud the Center of Bio-Ethical Reform for provoking a whirlwind of discussion on campus already... Whether or not you agree with the position of the demonstrators, the parallels that the group has drawn demand discussion."
University of Kansas, student

"This is mind blowing, it looks like a baby. I've never seen abortion... I think it's time to reconsider how I think."
Penn State University, Student

"I wish somebody had shown me real photos like this when I was making decisions."
24-year-old female / Arizona / October 13, 2010

"If I would have been told about this website [www.abortionno.org] I would of never of gotten an abortion. I look at this website many times through out the months. And, I regret what I did almost a year ago..."
30-year-old female / Tucson / May 27, 2008

"In this cynical and depraved world that people my age have had to grow up in, it is a breath of fresh air to finally hear someone stand up [against] the atrocities committed against human beings, particularly unborn children."
University of South Florida, student
